

What are Forecast Forward professional development sessions?

Forecast Forward professional development sessions will be hosted at CREB® to provide additional insight and education to members in the three weeks following the CREB® Forecast event.

How do I register for a Forecast Forward session?

When you purchase tickets to attend CREB®'s 2020 Forecast you will be able to register for one complimentary Forecast Forward session. Classes are subject to availability based on registration, so members are encouraged to register early for their session of choice.

What do I do if a Forecast Forward session I want to register for is full?

Registration for CREB®'s Forecast Forward PD sessions is on a first come first serve basis like our other educational offerings at CREB®. If a session you would like to register for is full, we encourage you to claim your spot in another session and check back to see if space has become available.

Can I transfer my registration from one Forecast Forward session to another?

If there is space available for a session that you would like to transfer your Forecast Forward registration to, please contact CREB®'s help desk at 403-781-1379 or helpdesk@creb.ca.

Can I register for more than one session?

When you purchase a CREB® 2020 Forecast ticket, you will be able to register for one complimentary Forecast Forward session. After Jan. 5, 2020, registration will be open to all members for sessions that still have available space. At that time, you can register for additional sessions (subject to availability).

How do I register for a Forecast Forward session if someone has purchased my ticket for me?

If someone else has purchased your ticket for you, they must input your information at the time of registration to ensure that you can register for your complimentary session. If your information was not input into the system at the time of ticket purchase, please email events@creb.ca for assistance.

If I transfer my Forecast ticket to another member, can I transfer my Forecast Forward session registration to another member?

Registrants are welcome to transfer their Forecast ticket(s) to other members but cannot transfer their Forecast Forward registration. If you have registered for a Forecast Forward session, you cannot transfer your registration if you sell your ticket but can still attend the course you registered to attend.

Why are professional development sessions no longer offered at the CREB® Forecast event?

CREB® is always working to enhance the member experience.

Post-event survey results for CREB® Forecast showed that attendees ranked the annual Forecast presentation and keynote speakers as high value for the event. With this in mind, CREB® Forecast has been re-imagined to provide members with the opportunity to see high profile speakers.

With our commitment to provide professional development opportunities for members, we are hosting Forecast Forward sessions at CREB® in the three weeks following the event as a value-add.
